Dear Friend of Virtual Education,

The Blended and Online Learning Discovery of Florida (BOLD) is excited to announce the return of the 2022 BOLD Symposium at the Pasco County School District Offices. This year's event will kick off the return of our annual symposium, which will take place from September 28-30, 2022, promises to be another great year in professional growth, learning and networking in virtual education across the state of Florida. This is the one time a year when all virtual programs from across the state are able to come together and learn from one another all the great things taking place in virtual education as it continues to thrive and grow as the future way of learning.

We would like to offer you an opportunity to put your company's brand in front of the 67 school districts from across the state of Florida, by becoming a symposium sponsor for 2023, when we will return to former symposium style. This is the one time of year that all of our great virtual leaders from the state are gathered in one location looking for ways to enhance their virtual program. Your sponsorship deposit in 2022 will show your commitment to building relationships with district virtual programs throughout the state of Florida. A variety of sponsorship opportunities are available so you may choose your level of support and exposure.

We hope you will not miss this opportunity to become involved with this great event and help us continue to be the forerunners in virtual education across the nation.

See you in Pasco County!!
